CELEBRATING YOUR HOME AND GARDEN In Honor of Alta Bush

Room 5 – Oncor

Oncor is bringing their knowledge so that you can learn how to control your energy consumption and reduce your electricity costs. They are implementing one of the broadest deployments of technology on an electric grid in the nation with its installation of advanced meters throughout this service area by 2012. Oncor wants to educate the public about the advanced meter technology so consumers can better understand how to take advantage of the opportunities the meters provide. There will be kiosk available for you to become more informed and to ask any question you may have.

Room 7 – Posada Pots and Ironworks

This exciting room is great shopping for unique and colorful Mexican pottery. They offer an extensive selection of pots and other outdoor decorations that will enhance your garden, an entryway, or your home. They have metal flowers and corn husk wildflowers that will make a garden beautiful. They offer all styles of southwestern pottery and their special Texas star pots. They also will take custom orders for metal signs, benches, and bar stools.

Rooms 8 & 9 – Antiques Room

Wichita Falls Antique Dealers Association Display & Appraisal Fair

This is a gathering of local antique shops so that you can see all that area dealers have to offer. They will also have appraisals that will begin on Saturday at 9:00 am until 6:00 pm and on Sunday appraisals will be at 11:00 am until 5:00 pm. This is just like the shows on TV with antiques and appraisals. You are invited to see varied collections of furniture and every type of antiques imaginable. Appraisals will be made by antique experts from the Wichita Falls Antique Dealers Association and the price is set at $5 per item.

Room 10 – Baker Auction

Baker Auction, from Port Bolivar, Texas will have an amazing array of antiques that they have gathered over many years from travels from many places. They have searched and have made some great discoveries that will just be perfect for you. They are experts in the field of auctions and they will assist you in getting just the right piece for you. Come by and see what they have to offer that will be just perfect for you. Auction Times; Saturday - 10:30 and TBA Sunday - 12:30

MAIN STREET ART AND ANTIQUES

CACTUS ROSE THEATRE

Experts in Sustainable Gardening

Sponsored by Wichita County Master Gardeners Association In the Lecture Hall.

SATURDAY
February 26, 2011

9:30 – 10:45 Natural Guard: Alternative Products for Lawns and Gardens • Jeff Luedke - Natural Guard Company

Jeff Luedke is a Registration & Product Specialist with the Natural Guard Company. He is responsible for researching and evaluating new products for their market. He is involved in developing "green chemistry" products to broaden market opportunities. His degrees are in Agronomy from Texas A&M University and he began many of the educational activities for the Master Gardener program in the Houston area.

11:00 – 12:15 Sustainable Landscaping • Elena Lipkowski - Lady Bird Johnson Wildflower Center

Elena Lipkowski is a docent with the Ladybird Johnson Wildflower Center near Austin and a rancher in West Texas. Both of these vocations give her the diverse knowledge needed to understand the vast landscapes of Texas. She is enthusiastic about the center's mission to promote sustainable use practices. She knows that conservation of native wildflowers, plants, and landscapes is essential to preserving the native grasses and resources of Texas.

12:30 – 1:45 Great Gardening Ideas • Steven Chamblee - Chandor Gardens of Weatherford

Steven Chamblee is the Chief Horticulturist for Chandor Gardens in Weatherford. He serves as Consulting Editor and Author for Neil Sperry's "Gardens" Magazine. He is also the Adjunct Instructor for Tarrant County College and Texas Christian University's Extended Education program. He always uses his collective experiences to bring a vibrant artistic expression to any garden.

2:00 – 3:15 All About Bees • Doug Hill - Red River Beekeepers Association

Doug Hill is a local beekeeper and for five years he has learned from the best, Jean Bouchard. Working together they care for over 400 colonies of bees. He has been vice president of the Red River Valley Beekeepers and the club's trainer for the past three years. Taking care of a great number of colonies makes it possible to keep the area supplied in honey and pollination capabilities.

SUNDAY
February 27, 2011

1:30 – 2:45 Native Plants for Our Area • Anne Dohrer - Wichita County Master Gardeners

Anne Dohrer has been a Master Gardener since 2006. She began at an early age when a neighbor gave her Tiger Lily bulbs to plant. Growing up in Northern Clay County she has learned to appreciate drought tolerant native plants. Her father taught her how to use native plants to make a garden that can be beautiful. Ann truly enjoys sharing her knowledge and experience with others so they may design their own garden.

3:00 – 4:15 "Firewise Landscaping: Protecting your Home and Property from Wildfires" • Wichita County Master Gardeners

The Wichita County Master Gardeners are sponsors for this year's festival. They are a dedicated group that has brought beauty to our city with their knowledge of flowers and plants. Firewise Landscaping is a topic that many of the Master Gardeners have put to use around their own properties. They volunteer many hours of their time with the AgriLife Extension Service to improve their gardening skills and to help to make the community more beautiful.
